Buzzer.connect - In-cab driver login alert

1

A driver enters a vehicle that is enabled with Buzzer.connect and starts the ignition.

2

The driver has a specified amount of time to identify themselves by either logging on using the TomTom navigation unit or by presenting their Dallas Key. If they fail to do this within the time, a buzzer sounds in the cab to remind them to log on. Optionally, an email can also be sent, notifying someone else of the event.

3

If the driver then logs on, using either method, the buzzer stops. Otherwise the buzzer will sound until the ignition is turned off. The buzzer can also be overridden by office staff who can turn it off using the web based configuration.

4

Buzzer.connect is totally configurable so that each vehicle can have a different log on delay. The buzzer can also be remotely disabled - For instance, if a driver has forgotten their key.
